3. Source of Words

All Spelling words for the local and final event will come from Merriam-Webster's Advanced Learner's English Dictionary (Franklin model BES-2150 which also includes other content). For the final event, words will come from this source and may also be supplemented by words from Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, 11th edition (Franklin model SCD-2100).

Franklin will provide official word lists to the Pronouncer and Judges at the start of each local and final event.

Additionally, Franklin will post a "Practice" word list which will contain 175 words from the source Merriam-Webster Advanced Learner's English Dictionary. This list will be posted to assist in the studying and learning of the English Language. This will be posted on the spellevent.org site.

NOTE: The practice words will be used in both the local and final SpellEvent during the first 3 rounds including the practice round. Beyond those rounds additional words will be used for both local and final events. These words will be new and not previously published.

4. Organization of Rounds

Up to 48 Participants may participate in the local final event. (Maximum number)

There will be a practice round at each local event. Each Participant will have a chance to spell a "practice" word. This round will not count as a competition round. This will be each Participant the opportunity to review the procedure and understand how the local event will run. Everyone in the group will be given a practice word to spell. Any wrong answers will not be counted as this is only a practice round.

In Round one, each Participant will have a chance to spell a word that is read to him or her by the Pronouncer. If the Participant spells the word incorrectly, he or she will be eliminated from further rounds in the event. Each participant that correctly spells a word will return to his/her seat and wait for the next round. Each round is completed when all participants has had a word to spell.

In Round two and following rounds, each remaining Participant will have a chance to spell a word correctly. These rounds will continue until we have top 4 finishers remaining. The final 4 will then move into the Championship rounds.

During the Championship rounds, when more than one participant is eliminated at the same time, there will be a “play off” in order to determine their ranking prior to moving on to the next round. When two participants are remaining, if the first participant spells his/her word incorrectly the second participant must spell their word correctly in order to be declared the Champion of the local event. If the word is not spelled correctly, then both participants are returned to the round and the round is continued until one participant remains.

Each Participant who participates in championship rounds will receive a ranking from 1st to 4th place finisher in the local event.

5. Master of Ceremonies (MC)

The MC will serve as an Emcee for the local event. The MC is responsible for helping to welcoming Participants and guests, announcing the beginning and end of each round, and assisting with the overall management of the event. Additionally, the MC will be responsible for restating rules and guidelines for the event, the MC must be fluent in English, and explain the format of the event first in the native language of the country (except for the Final Event), and then in English. (Except for the introduction provided by the MC, the event will be conducted in English.) The MC will also introduce each Participant and the school he or she attends.

The MC will work with the Franklin Event Manager, Pronouncer, and Judges in managing the overall event. At the conclusion of the event, the MC, Franklin and affiliate will announce the 1st through 4th place winners, and present them with their awards.

Franklin Event Manager will work with Affiliate staff (or other designated staff if applicable) to determine who will be responsible for tracking the rounds.

One Franklin Staff member and one TESOL Staff (or other designated staff is applicable) member to be responsible for keeping track of which Participants have been eliminated in each round, and for determining the ranking of the winners. This will be determined during the pre-meeting the day before the local event.

6. Pronouncer

The Pronouncer is responsible for reading spelling words aloud clearly and properly to the Participants. The Pronouncer does not serve as a Judge during the competition. For the local events, the Pronouncer must be a native speaker of the dominant language of the host country, not a native English speaker. The Pronouncer must also not be affiliated with any of the Participants or their schools.

At the beginning of each Participant's turn, the Pronouncer will say the spelling word out loud. The Participant should repeat the word back to the Pronouncer. If the Pronouncer feels the Participant has not understood the word, he or she may repeat the word, or ask the Participant to repeat it until the Pronouncer feels satisfied that the Participant has understood the word.

At this point the Pronouncer will start the 2-minute clock; the Participant must give an answer within this time limit. The Participant may ask the Pronouncer to provide the following information for the word: 1) alternate pronunciation, if any, 2) the first dictionary definition- including part of speech, and 3) an example sentence. This information will be part of the word lists provided by Franklin.

If the Participant is near the end of the 2-minute period (approximately with 30 more seconds to go), the Pronouncer should remind the Participant of the time and instruct him or her to spell the word.

Once the word has been spelled, the Pronouncer will confer with the other Judges and inform the Participant whether the spelling was correct or incorrect. If the spelling was incorrect, a Judge will ring the bell and the Pronouncer will provide the correct spelling of the word.

7. Judges

There will be a minimum of two judges for the local and final events. The Judges must not be affiliated with any of the Participants or their schools. The Judges are responsible for deciding if the answers given by the Participants are correct or incorrect. The Judges have the authority to resolve any disputes and ambiguities that may arise during the event. Their decisions are final.

If another Judge feels that the Pronouncer has given an incorrect pronunciation of a word, the Judges will confer to reach a decision. The 2-minute clock will not start until the Judges have agreed and the Pronouncer has clarified the pronunciation for the Participant.

The main criteria for the Judges will be whether or not the Participant has correctly spelled the word within the 2-minute time limit. For example, though it is customary for a Participant to pronounce the word before and after spelling it, failure to do so would not be grounds for elimination. So if the spelling word was “contest” and the Participant said, “contest, c-o-n-t-e-s-t”, that would be judged correct, even though he or she did not repeat the word after giving the spelling.

The Judges will not allow Participants to have any writing implements or materials during the event.

If the Judges do not feel they heard the spelling correctly, they may ask the Participant to repeat it. The 2-minute time clock no longer applies during such a request.

The Judges will eliminate a Participant who starts spelling a word, then starts over and changes the original spelling given. However, the Participant may retrace his or her spelling by starting over without changing the original spelling given. The following are examples of what is and is not allowed, using “contest” as the spelling word.

Not allowed: “c-o-m...(pause)...c-o-n-t-e-s-t”

Allowed (retracing): “c-o-n...(pause)...c-o-n-t-e-s-t”
